Luke 24:36b-48 Being a witness for Jesus.

Introduction: You will need ingredients to make a toasted cheese sandwich. (bread, butter, cheese and a pan or toastie maker) Hide ingredients and show one at a time.

So, I've decided that we are going to make lunch today.

Before we eat it, I thought I'd let you guess at what we are going to have.

I'll give you a few clues, first.

[Hold up two pieces of bread] -- Can you tell me what I'm holding?

That's right - two pieces of bread.

[Hold up a container of butter / margarine] -- And now what am I holding?

Yep -- right again! So with these two ingredients / things, what type of lunch could we have? (a butter sandwich, maybe)

A butter sandwich is a good idea, actually! But I just realized that I forgot to show you the other piece of food that I have. Sorry about that. I was so excited about the butter...

[Hold up a slice/chunk of cheese] -- Can you tell me what I'm holding now?

Right again! Cheese!

NOW what kind of lunch could I make with these three ingredients? (a cheese sandwich!)

So...should I put the butter on the inside or the outside of the bread?
[pause for answers...then...]

Wait-wait-wait! I did it again and forgot to show you ONE last thing.

[Hold up frying pan/or toastie maker] -- Can you tell me what I'm holding up now?

That's right, a frying pan! With these four things, NOW what do you think I could make for lunch? (wait for the answer of "Grilled Cheese Sandwich")

Yes, that's exactly what I'm going to have for lunch – a grilled cheese sandwich!

Message: When we make something that has more than one type of food in it, we call it a recipe.

Every time I showed you more of the things that were in my recipe, the better able you were to tell me what we are going to have for lunch.

We see a similar thing happen with the disciples in today's Bible story.

Jesus is resurrected, he has come back to life, but the disciples haven't seen enough of the Resurrected Jesus to understand what it all means. So Jesus helps them see more in today's story.

First, Jesus helped them remember who he was. He showed them his scars and then ate with them (they had fish instead of grilled cheese sandwiches).

Then, Jesus talked to them about other scripture stories to help them think about what was currently happening.

Then, Jesus talked to them about turning their attention to God (the fancy word for that is "repentance") and forgiveness.

After all of that, Jesus then tells them, "Now that you understand and see what I've been telling you, you can go tell others" ("be witnesses").

So, remember how you had to see all the ingredients I had for lunch before you really knew what I was going to have for lunch?

Jesus had to do the same thing with the disciples. He had to help them see how everything fit together before they could clearly tell others what they knew about Jesus.

And guess what? IT WORKED!

The disciples went out and shared with the people around them what they had learned and seen with Jesus.

Which is one reason why, 2000 years later, we're still telling stories about Jesus and talking to each other about what Jesus taught.

And, the more we learn about Jesus from the stories, the more like the disciples we can be – just like they did, we will be able to share and talk about those stories of Jesus with each other and the people around us.

And that is the good news for today: Let's pray.

Prayer: repeat after me prayer

Dear God,
Dear God,

Thank you for the disciples...
Thank you for the disciples...

...who shared everything...
...who shared everything...

...they saw and learned...
...they saw and learned...

...from following Jesus.
...from following Jesus.

Please help us...
Please help us...

...to do the same.
...to do the same.

Thank you and Amen

Activity: Crayon resist art. You will need a white crayon and water colour paints and white paper. (Heavy paper or card works best)

Write the name JESUS on the paper with the white crayon. (Children can do it or you do it before so it will be a surprise for the child when they paint over it.)

Children then paint over the word in water colour paint so that Jesus' name appears just like He appeared to the disciples.
